

Sales by State

This bubble map visualizes sales data across the United States. The size of each green bubble indicates the sales volume for a specific state. The map shows a high concentration of sales in the Northeast, particularly in New York and Pennsylvania, and in California, with significant bubbles in the San Jose and Fresno areas. Texas also shows substantial sales volume, with large bubbles in Dallas and Houston. Other states with notable sales include Illinois (Chicago area), Michigan (Detroit area), and Florida. The map includes labels for major cities, state names, and a legend in the bottom right corner.
